

Please delay the rule change and allow Congress more time to discuss the implications. I oppose greater media consolidation because it homogenizes American culture and gives too much political power to a few media outlets. This is an important issue and there is no rush to decide this before the American people have had a chance to speak on this issue.